Military Police Blockade Mission

Food, Gas and Electricity Are Cut Off; Soviets Refuse to Leave

Frankfurt, Germany, March 2 (AP)—Armed military police today blockaded a Russian mission which refused American orders to leave the U. S. zone of Germany.

Supplies of water, gas and electricity were cut off and telephones disconnected in the bloodless siege of the Russian repatriation mission here. Food was shut off by orders to MP's to arrest anyone trying to enter the building or leave it.

Four officers and four soldiers, and their families are in the mission. No one knew how much food they had.

A Russian officer, apparently from the Soviet military mission, tried to enter the house, but was turned away by an MP.

The mission handled the return of displaced persons to Russia.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, off Feb. 16 asked the mission to leave by March 1 because the number of DP's now agreeing to return to Russia is negligible. He said the Russian Military Mission could handle the work and lifted Continued on Page Eight

March Winds Strike Down 30 in Europe

London, March 2 (AP)—The March wind blew into Europe yesterday, snuffed out at least 30 lives and caused property damage running into the millions.

Gusts up to 90-miles-an-hour—far above hurricane force—pushed over buildings, sank ships and flooded coasts.

Twenty-six persons were killed in the collapse of war-damaged buildings in Western Germany. A man died under a toppled wall in Rome. Another inspecting gale damage to a roof in England, was blown off and killed. A British woman was killed by a falling chimney just a few hours before her baby was due. In Genoa, a sailor was killed by a toppling mast.

The Polish steamer Katowice sank in the North Sea; the British water tanker in the harbor of Banff, Scotland, and barges sank at two spots in the Thames estuary. The crews were rescued.

Aircraft were grounded; the Berlin airlift stopped for several hours. Electricity was cut off in parts of Southern Italy and telephone service in parts of England.

Heavy gale damage to Baltic ports, including Rostock and Warnemunde, in the Soviet zone of Germany was reported by the Russian-licensed news agency.

London's Blackwall tunnel under the Thames and Chatham's Strood tunnel under the Medway were closed because of flood water.

The wind at Derby blew down all signs except one reading "It's a Rum (odd) climate."

B-50 Refuels Four Times in Long 23,452-Mile Junket

Fort Worth, Tex., March 2 (AP)—An airforce bomber today completed the first non-stop flight around the world.

The B-50 Superfort "Lucky Lady II," carrying a crew of 14, arrived over Carswell Airforce Base at 10:21:40 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, less than four days after it left the same field. It refueled four times in its historic eastward flight.

The plane landed at 10:30:55 a. m., E.S.T.

Unofficial elapsed time for the world-girdling trip was 94 hours, one minute, an average speed of 239 miles per hour.

It was unofficially estimated that the Lucky Lady II flew 23,452 statute miles from its takeoff in Fort Worth around the world non-stop and returning to Carswell Airforce Base. The world-girdling bomber took off from Carswell base at 12:21 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, Feb. 26.

It headed eastward, its first refueling point at the Azores islands about 3,800 miles away.

The next flying gas station was Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, 5,200 miles from the Azores.

The third refueling point was above the Philippines, a 4,900 mile trip.

Longest flight between tanker planes was from the Philippines to Hawaii, about 5,300 miles.

The last fill-up came over Hawaii. From there to the Fort Worth home field was a little more than 3,700 miles.

The Boeing B-50 is the postwar successor of the wartime B-29 Superfortress.

Closely resembling the B-29 in exterior appearance, the B-50 has considerably more speed, rate of climb, range and bomb-carrying ability.

Powered with four Pratt and Whitney 3,500 horsepower engines, the B-50 has a top speed of about 400 miles an hour, a cruising speed around 300 and can climb to 40,000 feet. Its bomb capacity is stated at 10 tons, its maximum range (without in-flight refueling) at 6,000 miles. Its wing span is 141 feet, its fuselage length 90 feet. The weight of the plane for normal takeoff is about 120,000 pounds.

Normal crew is made up of 12 men and officers.

Production of the B-50 was started in 1944, but only within the last year have deliveries increased to the point where operational outfits began receiving the bomber. Air Secretary Symington in revealing the in-flight refueling project to the Senate Armed Services Committee, said that by utilizing the "most modern development" of the old airborne refueling method, bombers could strike at any part of Russia from bases in Labrador or Alaska. This would be a two-way mission, not a "suicide" flight, with the bombers returning to bases in the United States or in territory controlled by the United States.

Finance Report Is Approved, Still Is to Be Cleared by Group

A Finance Committee report favoring the raising of $47,915 for the purchase of machinery for the public works department was approved by the Common Council last night, but the proposal is still to be reported out of the Laws and Rules Committee.

The Finance Committee recommended a cut of $19,585 from the $67,500 originally sought following a compromise between its minority and majority members.

The council recessed until March 15, following a second reading of an amendment to a local law which will raise the salaries of the mayor and other city officials and adoption of a report of the Traffic Control Committee on new street and traffic regulations.

Cut from the list of proposed new machinery for the public works department were a loader at an estimated cost of $12,620, three spreaders a $3,465 and escalator claws at $3,500.

The $67,500 originally asked for machinery was part of a $200,000 in bond issue proposals submitted at the February meeting. Of this $100,000 was approved for street construction, $20,000 for a sewer project, $10,000 for enlargement of the city's incinerator plant and $22,500 for improvement of the recreation center.

Fourth Ward Alderman Joan Buboltz (D), minority member of the Finance committee, announced the list of items cut from the original list of proposed new machinery, prior to his voting on the report of the committee, and said it was his belief that the units mentioned would last a year or two more.

Adoption of the Laws and Rules Committee amendment, the $47,915 bond issue is expected to be adopted at the recessed meeting in two weeks.

Amendments Are Read—City Clerk Bernhard S. Kramer read for the second time the proposed amendments to local laws which will raise the mayor's salary from $5,000 to $7,500 a year, and provide increases for other city officials and the aldermen.

Salaries of the assessor, city treasurer, city clerk, and corporation counsel will be boosted from $1,200 to $1,700, and the aldermen from $350 to $600.

The city judge's salary will be raised from $3,000 to $4,000, the special city judge from $500 to $750, the alderman-at-large from $1,200 to $1,700, and the aldermen from $350 to $600.

Final reading and adoption of amendments to the local laws are scheduled for the recessed session March 15.

The councilmen authorized changing the boundary lines of the first and second districts of the Second Ward to equalize the voting population in the districts following adoption of a report of the Laws and Rules Committee favoring the change.

Cominform To Convene In Hungary

Polish Reports Declare Military Parley Called; May Establish Own Defense Pact

Will Make Review Eastern Nations to Make Study of Military Preparations

Prague, Czechoslovakia, March 2 (AP)—The Cominform may be getting ready to hatch a military alliance to match the North Atlantic Pact.

Reports from Poland said a Cominform military conference has been called for about March 15 in Hungary, possibly at Debrecen. Reliable sources in Warsaw were quoted as saying the defense chiefs of the eastern European countries were expected to review their military preparations.

The announced purpose of the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) is limited to propaganda. It is an organization of the Communist parties of Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, France and Italy, and was organized October 5, 1947 to fight the Marshall Plan and "U. S. imperialism."

A little over a month ago however, a parallel economic organization, the Economic Council for Mutual Aid, was formed by Russia, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Czechoslovakia—all of the Cominform countries except France and Italy, where non-Communist governments are in power, and Yugoslavia, which has been expelled.

At that time it was predicted by some observers that a parallel military organization also would be formed.

The purpose of E.C.M.A., Moscow announced, was to foster economic cooperation. It had become evident that stronger measures than propaganda were necessary to match the Marshall Plan.

The Cominform satellites already are linked with Moscow in a series of mutual assistance treaties. These treaties mark the all-embracing character of a general alliance, however. Also, they pledge mutual assistance only in event of war with Germany or a power joined directly or indirectly with Germany.

When E.C.M.A. was organized Russia also had a series of trade agreements with her satellites. E.C.M.A. sought closer application through Moscow of these two-party agreements.

A closer military alliance, it is presumed, would be proclaimed a defensive measure in keeping with Moscow's avowed of peaceful intentions. In effect it would be new evidence of a hardening of attitude in this part of the world.

Commission Asks VA Changes Be Expedited

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The Hoover Commission today proposed "major improvements" in the operation of the veterans administration. It laid special emphasis on tightening VA education and insurance programs.

The commission reported poor management and waste in the education setup, inefficiency and delay in handling insurance problems and "serious internal organizational defects" in the agency as a whole.

In the ninth of its series of 15 reports to Congress, the Government Reorganization Group headed by former President Herbert Hoover offered six recommendations for improving the VA setup. The result, it said, would be "considerable savings." It did not mention an amount.

The commission said the agency should separate its insurance program from its other functions and set them up in a veterans insurance corporation.

It said the VA program of guaranteeing home loans for veterans should be turned over to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

And it suggested that the VA set up its own list of certified schools, in addition to state lists of "accredited institutions," and that it refuse to pay GI tuition to any school not on its list.

The commission pointed out that in the year which ends June 30, 1950, the Veterans Administration will spend $530,000,000—about 11 per cent of the total national budget and more than any other federal agency except the military establishment and the treasury department.

The report found conflicting lines of authority between VA's Washington officials and field offices, too many organizational units within the agency and too many staff officers for major programs.

The commission's recommendations for improving management:

Reorganize the administrator's office, replacing his executive assistant with a deputy and adding three more assistant administrators.

Consolidate administration of pensions, retirement benefits, disability compensation and guardianships in a veterans' benefit service. Consolidate the vocational rehabilitation, education and readjustment allowance programs and the certification of veterans for loan guarantee in a readjustment service.

State Sources Say Dewey Budget Cut May Be 48 Millions

No Official Sign Is Given Either Side to Accept Figure; Seen as 'Balloon'

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Capitol sources talked today about a $48,000,000 cut in Governor Dewey's $936,200,000 budget as the price of settlement of the Republican legislative tax revolt.

Officially, there was no outward sign whether this figure was acceptable to the Dewey administration or the camps of the Erie and Westchester county G.O.P. rebels.

But it would approach a mid-air-ground answer to the demand for a $102,330,000 slash made by Senator Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, leader of the Erie bloc.

A $48,000,000 reduction would allow elimination of the proposed one per cent gallon increase in the gasoline tax and a 10 per cent reduction in Dewey's proposal to collect the personal income tax at 100 per cent of the legal rate. The income tax levy now is collected at 60 per cent of the full rate.

The "saving" in eliminating the gas tax boost would amount to $20,000,000 and the 10 per cent income tax drop would save $28,000,000.

Some observers took the view that the $48,000,000 "compromise" figure was put forth as a "trial balloon."

O'Reilly reasoned, however, that such a cut would permit a victory claim by the insurgents and at the same time afford a measure of "face-saving" for the administration.

Publicly, the opposing forces showed no signs of giving ground, although the insurgents privately conceded they did not expect to achieve all of the $102,330,000 cut asked by Mahoney in behalf of the seven-Erie county G.O.P. legislators.

The size of the cut he proposed led some on capitol hill to believe it was set at that figure for bargaining purposes. Thus far, however, there has been no outward hint of interest in bargaining on the part of administration leaders.

Mahoney's proposal to eliminate the $40,000,000 extra state aid for education recommended by Dewey for school construction ran into Continued on Page Seventeen

Milk Revenue Off, Hearing Is Told Higher Rates Are Blamed by O'Reilly; Two Witnesses Sworn

At this morning's hearing in the Ulster County Court House relative to curtailment of train service, it was revealed that milk traffic on the Catskill Mountain Division of the New York Central Railroad decreased during 1948.

Milk shipment revenue fell off from $128,111.83 during the first half of last year to $85,071.90 for the second half. It was pointed out. During January this year the milk revenue was $1,357.41.

This drop in revenue came about because of higher rates and was not due to the withdrawal of any train service on the line, it was said.

At the present time the New York Central Railroad system is making a study of milk shipment rates, with the view of ascertaining whether an over-all reduction of rates can be established and whether such a reduction in rates can revive the milk shipments.

That statement was made today by William E. O'Reilly, superintendent of milk service for the company in New York state.

O'Reilly stated that in his opinion the increased rates had been responsible for the loss of milk shipments and that truck competition at lower cost had taken the milk from the railroad to over-highway methods of shipment.

College Professor Says Reds Not Free, Shouldn't Teach

New York, March 2 (AP)—Dr. Raymond B. Allen, president of the University of Washington, said last night Communists should not teach in colleges "because they are not free men."

"Teachers must be free seekers after the truth," Dr. Allen said in a prepared speech on the American Broadcasting Company's "Town Meeting of the Air."

"The Communist Party," he added, "does not allow its members this freedom."

His university recently fired three professors. "Two, Herbert J. Phillips and Joseph Buttenworth, have admitted being Communists. The third, Ralph H. Gundlach, has denied he was ever a Communist."

Dr. Allen said studies at the university in connection with the discharges "proved" beyond a shadow of a doubt that a member of the Communist Party is not a free man; that he is, instead, a slave to immutable dogma, and to a clandestine organization masquerading as a political party."

Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence College at Bronxville, N. Y., said in his prepared speech:

"President Allen's is a dangerous and heavy-handed way to select truth. It dismisses truth before it is heard. It says that the issue of truth is closed."

"It implies that there is already an absolute American truth which makes all other impossible. It says the test of truth is where it comes from. This is simply the Communist argument applied in reverse."

Dr. Allen said Communist party Continued on Page Three

Train Fares Are Among Proposals

Phone Calls, Movies Are Also on Cut List; Would Lower Some Others

Reply to Truman

Suggestions Are Answer to President's Request for More Revenue

Washington, March 2 (AP)—House Republicans lined up today behind their own plan to cut taxes as a counter proposal to President Truman's request for $4,000,000,000 in additional revenue.

Without taking a definite stand on general taxes such as those on incomes, the G.O.P. leadership came out strongly for cuts in excise taxes. These are imposed on train fares, telephone tools, movie tickets.

Republicans proposed the reduction as "the first order of business for the 81st Congress."

The G.O.P. decision was announced yesterday by Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts following the first meeting of the new Republican Policy Committee. This committee of 26 members was set up last month to speak for G.O.P. House members on issues coming before Congress.

Its unanimous endorsement of the excise tax said the need is "immediate and imperative."

The new tax schedule backed by the Republicans is embraced in a bill already introduced by Martin, who said after the meeting he believes the Ways and Means Committee will approve it or a substitute.

There are 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans on the Ways and Means group, and Martin predicted that the Democrats would vote with the Republicans on the excise tax issue.

Disputing estimates that a cut-back in excise taxes would knock from $800,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 from revenues, the Republicans said they believe the cut would encourage business. They said it would provide enough jobs to offset any revenue loss and in effect would increase total federal revenues.

Presumably, such an increase would come from more payments of existing business and personal income taxes.

Has Gone on Record—The Senate-House Economic committee has gone on record in favor of cutting or removing taxes on such things as plane and train fares and oleomargarine.

The Republican bill would not disturb the present $9-per-proof-gallon tax on liquor. It would restore other excise rates to pre-war levels.

Rates on jewelry, furs and admissions would be cut from 20 per cent to 10 per cent, electric signs and bulbs from 20 to 5 per cent, bowling alleys and billiard tables from $20 to $10 a year; cable, radio and leased wire messages, telephone tolls and cameras, from 20 to 10; films and photographic plates, from 15 to 10; transportation, 15 to 5; local telephone bills, 15 to 6; luggage, from 20 per cent on retail sales to 10 per cent on manufacturers; toilet goods, from 10 per cent on retail sales to 11 per cent on manufacturers.

The tax would be removed on sales of jewelry items retailing at less than $25.

The Republicans coupled with their tax cut demand an attack on President Truman's budget. They said it would commit the nation to "a spending spree" and "is padded by waste, extravagance, overlap and inefficiency."

The Republican leaders also took a temporary stand in opposition to the President's proposal to consolidate all federal social agencies into a Department of Welfare.

Resolution Okayed—Washington, March 2 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved a resolution today to hold the 1956 Olympic games in Detroit. Chairman Connally (D-Texas) said he believes the Senate will act favorably on the resolution. He said the Olympics Association had agreed the games should be held in Detroit. The last Olympic games held in the United States were in 1932 at Los Angeles. Connally said it was understood that Detroit would not call on the government for any funds in helping stage the games.

SLEEPING DEATH

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

New York, March 2 (AP)—Sleeping pills are the leading mode of suicide in this country. About half the annual 1,000 pill deaths are suicides.

This appears in a national survey by the Associated Press. Health authorities are sure of the suicides, but seldom of exact numbers. The uncertainty is due to some queer effects of sleeping pills on your mind. The pills are barbiturates, one of the best drugs in medicine, used by doctors to soothe the nerves of millions.

They are so innocent-looking that thousands are willing to take them without medical advice, sometimes in spite of it. But, either in overdoses, or in small doses, or for persons who

He was revived. The doctor asked: "What happened?"

"Nothing."

"But you took enough sleeping pills to kill you."

"No. I took three. Then I wake up here."

This man was a victim of auto-matism. He took one pill to sleep, but remained awake, and took two more. After that, he did not know what he was doing.

Another type is a person with no intentions of suicide. He takes sleeping pills to soothe his nerves. But his reactions are not like most other people, and the pills depress him. Then, half awake, he decides on death.

Sleeping Pill Addicts

At the Charles B. Towns Hospital here which treats alcoholics and narcotic addicts, there are occasional sleeping pill addicts. It is easier to cure the pill victims.

Stepping is not so uncomfortable. But some return to pills. And these are worse off than the alcoholics or the narcotic addicts. The latter may return periodically for years, their minds and bodies still fairly sound. The sleeping pill relapsers don't repeat often. They die.

Jerome Trichter, assistant commissioner of the New York City Health Department, who heads one of the most active campaigns against sleeping pill abuses, says some people use these barbiturates as mental crutches. When they face making a decision, they take a pill. The need for decision vanishes. He says communities are developing this sleeping pill do-nothing habit.

Psychopathic personalities, who take the pills because the drug makes a big man out of a little fellow. Postwar tensions started thousands of sleeping pills. In Metropolitan Life Insurance Company studies, more women take them than men.

Have Become Headache

Since the war, sleeping pills have become a headache for federal narcotics agents. Addicts could not buy drugs regularly when narcotic prices rose several hundred per cent. They learned to live over with sleeping pills.

The federal agents dislike the pills as much as the narcotics. They say that under influence of the pills, people don't know what they are doing. The takers may be violent, they always are goofy and unpredictable. The officers blame the pills for a drop in the percentage of addicts coming in for cures.

Some of these agents say that the war they wage on illegal narcotics would be just a small thing compared with what they would have to do to fight sleeping pills.

Council Favors . . .

tions were adopted following a report of the Traffic Control Committee:

1. No parking on the south side of Andrew street at the curb line of Broadway and Andrew street westerly for 60 feet on Andrew street.
2. Removal of the "caution sign" at Washington avenue and North Front street and erection of a "stop sign" there. Restriction of the area on the east side of Washington avenue at North Front street to "no parking at any time" the area mentioned to be restricted for 40 feet in a southerly direction on Washington avenue; re-establishment of the amber traffic caution blinker in the center of the road at this point where it originally operated.
3. Restriction on Green street on the west side from Main to Pearl street as "no parking area at any time" and erection of proper standards.
4. Erection for 60-days trial of four "full-stop" standards at four corners of the intersection of Washington avenue and Pearl street, and establish no parking at any time 40 feet from each sign.

Another separate report called for restricting parking on the south side of West Union street from Hone street to Wurts street, and "at all times" on Hone street 75 feet from the intersection of West Union and Wurts streets, and restriction "at all times" on the south side of Abel street from Broadway to Post street.

A proposal by Joseph J. Bruno, 12 Susan street, made through a letter to the council, and suggesting that diesel tanks from excavations in conjunction with the Broadway crossing project, be used as fill on the Sterling street dump, was referred to the Board of Public Works.

The letter suggested that the area could be used later as a park or playground.

A resolution by Tenth Ward Alderman James J. Carroll seeks to make available after school hours and during the summer, the yard of No. 8 School as a playground.

The resolution stressed that the former Barnhart Park is no longer available as a playground, and it asked that if and when the Board of Education grants permission to use the school yard, that "the Board of Public Works be instructed to furnish a play superintendent" for after school hours and during June, July, August and September, from the date of school-closing until its reopening.

The resolution was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

Zoning Change Made
The alderman voted to authorize a change in the zoning laws as requested by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander W. Embree for designation as a business zone property, 521-39 (except 535) Albany avenue. The Laws and Rules Committee reported favorably on the petition, following a hearing Feb. 23, at which it was unopposed.

A resolution asking support of the council "to memorialize and petition Congress and the President, in behalf of 'Brigadier Gen. Casimir Pulaski's Memorial Day'" was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

The request was in a letter from J. K. Wierwinski, South End, Ind., and was accompanied by a formal resolution. It explained that several states already observe the memorial day honoring the Revolutionary War hero, and explained that a resolution is now pending in Congress seeking nationwide observance of the day.

A request of B'nai B'rith for renewal of the rental agreement which makes the Municipal Auditorium available for the organization's boxing bouts, was referred to the Building and Supplies Committee.

Chilson Approved
A letter from Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, announcing to the council his appointment of George L. Chilson as a member of the Kingston Housing Authority, was filed.

A resolution by Twelfth Ward Alderman James E. Martin, seconded by Aldermen Randall D. Kelder, First Ward; John Dawkins, Second Ward; James J. Carroll, 10th Ward and A. D. Relyea, 11th Ward, and extending thanks to Mayor Newkirk, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, and the Board of Fire Commissioners, for the fire truck recently stationed at Excelsior Hose engine house, was adopted after its reading.

The resolution stressed that "we, the aldermen of the First, Second, 10th, 11th and 12th Wards, representing the section of our city to be most benefited, extend to the fire commissioners, on behalf of our constituents, our most hearty thanks for their able foresight in giving to this fast growing area the fire protection that it so greatly needs."

A resolution by First Ward Alderman Randall Kelder, asking that no parking be allowed on the east side of Green street along the property line of the D.A.R. building from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. except Sunday, was referred to the Traffic Control Committee.

Another by Seventh Ward Alderman Thomas P. Coughlin, asking a loading zone be established at Stauble's bakery, 99-101 Abel street, from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m., was referred to the same committee.

A resolution by Alderman Charles Cole, 13th Ward, asking repair of the condition on Chapel street, which resulted recently in the miring of a fire truck there, was referred to the Board of Public Works.

One sponsored jointly by Alderman Dawkins and Carroll, asked for the restriction of parking in front of the used-car lot at 722 Broadway.

Prior to recessing the meeting, Alderman-at-Large Charles J. Turk, called attention of the councilmen to the fact that Albert Kurdt, secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, had attended the session.

"Can you imagine a social scientist unable freely to accept or reject the Marshall Plan? Yet, according to the record of our hearings at the University of Washington, this is the freedom permitted Communist party members who proclaim the right to serve on the faculty of our university."

Tax Rate Increases
Port Jervis, March 2—A record-breaking budget calling for a tax levy of $256,831.40 and a tax rate of $22.84 has been adopted by the Common Council. The levy was more than $40,000 above the tax rate represented an increase of $3.64 over the $19.20 impost of fiscal year 1948-49. The total budget, including appropriations offset by anticipated revenues and not included in the tax levy, was approximately $371,000.

Gain in Sales Reported

Moscow, March 2 (AP)—The Soviet press today reported sales up and trade very brisk as a result of the price-cuts put into effect Monday. Reductions ranged from 10 per cent on bread to 30 per cent on hay and salt. Sharp drops in prices on the non-controlled ration-free collective farm markets and a sharp increase in the amounts of goods brought to market also were reported. Newspapers quoted housewives to the effect that savings in kopecks (pennies) on individual items added up to rubles saved in a day's shopping. Jewelry and watch owners here were crowded and there was much interest in the new prices for radios and electrical household appliances.

$1,000 a Year

Poughkeepsie, March 2—The city will begin to pay rent this year for the land on which the Grand avenue Veterans' Housing project is situated. Earl Hawley, attorney for the Poughkeepsie Savings Bank, owner, said the city, as of June 1, will have had use of the land for three years, without charge. The city has an option to renew agreement for use of the property he explained. Renewals may be negotiated as of June 1 for three successive years at land rental of $1,000 a year, according to Hawley. It was estimated the city's share of rents paid by veterans in the project will amount to $6,200.

Against Outsiders
Middletown, March 2—Mayor Samuel Mitchell was on record today as being opposed to hiring an outside real estate appraisal firm to reassess the value of real property in Middletown for purposes of taxation. In a letter read to the Common Council the mayor asserted that he believed the work could be done by "competent local men" at a considerable saving to the city.

TRUMAN'S 'PLANNED' TOUR
President Truman has hinted that he may "make another tour around the country to tell the people how their government is getting on." If he does, the trip is bound to be quite different from his surprising and triumphant campaign journey of last fall.

This time he won't have a "do-nothing 80th Congress" as a target. This time it is a Congress led by his own party. Thus it is a less vulnerable target than the one that took all those paralyzing Truman haymakers. This one will require more stylish and scientific punching.

Yet Mr. Truman was still throwing haymakers in his speech at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner. "All we have on our side," he said, "is the people." He made clear his belief that he and the people are being fought in Congress by "the special interests," who are represented by lobbyists, pressure groups, controlled editorial pages, columnists and commentators, and full-page ads.

If Mr. Truman really believes that, then he is telling the people, in effect, that they made a futile gesture in replacing a Republican with a Democratic leadership in Congress.

When Mr. Truman was charging a Republican leadership in Congress with being the vassals of big business, he was greeted by encouraging shouts of "Give 'em hell, Harry!" But similar charges against a Democratic leadership might bring questions of "Well, why aren't you doing something about it?" And it might be somewhat embarrassing to make an answer.

Mr. Truman is the head of both the government and the Democratic Party. If, in that position, he had to answer that he was unable to persuade or force his fellow-Democrats in Congress away from the side of the "special interests" to the side of "the people," it would be rather an admission of weakness. It would also suggest that since he had no control over Congress, his party could hardly prove itself the party of "the people," as advertised.

Mr. Truman is irked with Congress because it does not see eye to eye with him on new legislation and the time-table of its enactment. The Democratic congressmen, no less than the President, are pledged to carry out their party's platform promises. But since Congress is an equal, not a subordinate, branch of government, the Democratic leadership doubtless feels that it has the right to differ with Mr. Truman on details.

Since Mr. Truman has proved himself an astute politician with a remarkable sensitive feeling for public sentiment, he probably has already planned his next move. It seems doubtful to us that he would ask the people's permission for a leave from his exacting duties in order to stomp the country with a message that this Democratic Congress is as do-nothing as its Republican predecessor. And it is doubtful that he, as a loyal party man, would embarrass the party further by pressing this line of argument.

After all, the differences between Mr. Truman and his colleagues on Capitol Hill are largely of degree rather than kind. The President surely knows this. He also knows how keenly any Congress feels about its equality and independence, and how bitterly it resents any slurs on its integrity.

So it may well be that the Jefferson-Jackson charges were in the nature of a trial balloon. Mr. Truman, we believe, is too smart a man and too much of a realist to go on tour in the rather unbelievable role of a shining knight engaging single-handed the dragon of corruption.

OVERWHELMING MAJORITY
Senate ratification of the North Atlantic Defense pact would be "worse than useless" unless the majority for it were overwhelming, says Senator Tom Connally of Texas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee. Approval by a narrow margin would show a cold and reluctant approval that would do no good at all.

Winston Churchill once said something appropriate which Connally might have quoted. In 1906, a large Liberal majority in Parliament was proposing to give home rule to

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE ATLANTIC PACT

The treaty which is secretly being negotiated among the western powers is an offensive-defensive alliance designed to establish a western military consortium to fight Soviet Russia. Although the State Department and other agencies of government have permitted news of the treaty to become public, no text has appeared and Secretary of State Dean Acheson's conversations with the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs were not in the nature of a public hearing but rather a secret disclosure to a few ears.

Under our system of government, the treaty cannot become law unless confirmed by the Senate and that body may not confirm unless the treaty, in full, with no secret clauses, is placed before it publicly. President Roosevelt got around the constitution at Teheran and Yalta, and for that matter at Quebec, at the Atlantic conference, and at the Singapore conference, without senatorial confirmation, by the simple device of personal decisions which were so swiftly put into effect that their tragic mischief was a fact before the American people even heard about it.

Mr. Acheson chooses the constitutional course. Nevertheless, we need to watch carefully that when the treaty is made available, it does no further imperil our country. We need to know what we are doing and what we are underwriting.

The first fact we need to recognize, however, is that treaty or no treaty, our conduct will be the same. Since 1917, this country has accepted, at huge cost in life and wealth, the proposition that whoever attacks Europe west of the Rhine invades us in war. By actual deed we have made the river Rhine our eastern boundary. This was never done by and with the consent of the American people. But it has become an accomplished fact.

Therefore, this treaty is really unnecessary because, come what may, our government will accept Russia's further aggression in Europe as an act of war against the United States. In preparation for such a war, this country plans to expend in the next fiscal year more than $22,000,000,000—possibly closer, when all expenditures are in, to $25,000,000,000. The Atlantic Pact can, at most, confirm, already pledged itself to do. There is no doubt about the practice anywhere in the world, although there is in many places not only confusion but consternation at the miserable showing that we have made of our practices during the past two years—particularly the terrifying defeats we have suffered in China.

One of the problems that faces our European Allies is the peculiarity of our constitutional system which gives to Congress, and not to the President, the power to declare war. Europe has witnessed two Presidents, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt, drag a declaration of war out of Congress with the greatest difficulty. Wilson, indeed, was elected on an anti-war platform a year before he finally found a way to get us into a war which he favored. Roosevelt actually had the country participating in war, by indubitable warlike acts, months before the congressional declaration of war.

But the delays irked and frightened our eventual Allies, who cannot in World War 3 take any important part in the war and must depend solely upon us. As a matter of fact, after this country entered World War 2 officially, it became our war, and has remained such with increasing intensity.

Therefore, the Atlantic Pact is designed to bypass the constitutional power of Congress to declare war. A treaty in the law of the land, unless it violates the constitution. A treaty, confirmed by the Senate in the proper manner, will not violate the constitution. Therefore, what Congress actually will be doing when this treaty is confirmed by the Senate will be to delegate its own powers to declare war to the President. Such a delegation by an act of legislation would probably be unconstitutional, but a provision of a treaty, it will probably not be unconstitutional.

Lawyers can argue this point hither and yon, but the fact is that this pact is designed to regularize a condition that already exists—namely, that in preparation for a war with Soviet Russia, we are seeking and are willing to pay for Allies. (Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

EXTRA FOOD BEFORE AN OPERATION

When we think of the treatment given before an operation just a few years ago, many of us must wonder how the patients ever recovered from the operation, although the skill of surgeons of those days was little—if any—behind our surgeons of today.

Until recently a patient about to undergo an operation was given a purgative and an enema so that the stomach and small and large intestine would be "clean" at the time of the operation. Also he was given very little food for a day or two before surgery, so that the digestive organs would be at rest during the operation. The patient thus would not lose any strength needed for, and his recovery after the operation.

What do we find today? If the patient is not well nourished, he is given "extra" food for several days to give him strength to withstand the operation and prevent shock from weakness during the operation. Also before, during and after the operation, he is given transfusions of sugar and water to maintain strength until he is able to eat nourishing foods.

In "Annals of Surgery," Drs. C. E. Koop, J. H. Dwyer, Cecilia Riegel and J. E. Rhoads, University of Pennsylvania, report their results obtained in patients about to undergo stomach and brain operations by feeding large amounts of protein (meat and eggs) before the operation. It is known that in these cases there usually is an insufficient amount of nitrogen in the blood and tissues.

Eleven patients on whom stomach and brain operations were to be performed were studied, and 12 others about to undergo the same operation were used for controls. For five days before the operation each of the 11 patients were given 8 to 9 grams of nitrogen for each kilogram (about 2 pounds) of weight daily. This was three times as much as had been found necessary to maintain nitrogen balance. In the 11 patients who received the extra protein before the operations, results were better. Less swelling (edema) occurred, and they were able to get out of bed and on their feet sooner than the 12 who did not receive protein before the operations.

How different this feeding before an operation from the days of starvation, purgatives and enemata!

South Africa, and the Conservatives were hanging back. Churchill, then a Liberal, made this plea: "With all our majority, we can only make this the gift of a party. If you join us, you can make it the gift of all England."

The Life of a Teacher's Pet Is Not a Happy One

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington—Only the President's inside advisers know it, but he gave a decidedly different twist to the idea they originally put up to him of slumping the country.

Some of Mr. Truman's local friends had suggested to him, shortly before the Jackson-Jefferson dinner, that he go on a tour of the nation in order to keep his contacts with the people, not to rap Congress.

They were frankly afraid that Truman, sitting in the rarified atmosphere of Washington and surrounded by too many yes-men, was losing his perspective. So it was suggested that instead of going to Key West for a vacation, the President go on a trip through the west perhaps to visit some water-power project or the snowbound areas.

Mr. Truman, however, declined to give up his Key West outing, though he had spent two weeks there shortly before Christmas. And at the Jackson-Jefferson dinner, he twisted the original idea around so that his proposed trip becomes a campaign tour against Congress—despite the fact that the present Congress is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Social Security for Servants

President Truman's program to extend federal old-age insurance to an additional 26,000,000 persons will not slide through the House Ways and Means committee as easily as did the bill to extend reciprocal-trade agreements.

Although Chairman "Muley" Bob Doughton of North Carolina agreed to introduce the administration bills on social security, he explicitly did so only "as he has basis for consideration and discussion."

When current hearings have been completed, the committee will then sit down in executive session to write its own bill, which will probably bear little resemblance to the Truman proposals.

For example, the President includes 5 million farmers, 3.5 million hired hands, and 2.5 million cooks, maids and other household servants in the 26,000,000 total to be covered. Yet members of Congress from rural areas, among them Speaker Sam Rayburn, are convinced that farmers are opposed to social security. And the prospect of a rebellion from an array of irate housewives, compelled to pay and collect employment taxes on their hired help, makes even the congressmen from the cities shudder a bit.

Actually, compliance with the simplified plans for collecting social security taxes from farmers and housewives would be relatively easy, but the country doesn't think so.

Old Age Benefits

On the other hand, increasing social security benefits will definitely be approved. However, Congress will throw all the benefit payments for both sickness and short duration (up to 26 weeks) and for extended disability. Too many people, the congressmen think, would get sick on purpose.

In addition, old-age retirement for women will probably be reduced from 85 to 60 and a benefit of $50 (now $15) per month without losing the right to his government pension check.

Bureaucrats Dig Snow

The army did a great job in feeding snowbound civilians and cattle during western storms, but other civilian agencies did equal pioneering jobs with on credit at all—the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management and the Agriculture Department's Forest Service.

Inside fact is that the land bureau proceeded with rescue work at a time when the army at first refused to budge.

What happened was that on January 12, Paul L. Pickenger, regional director of the Indian Service at Billings, Mont., telephoned Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, army district engineer at Omaha on January 12 asking the army for assistance. General Pick, one of the highest officers in the engineers corps and already nominated as chief of engineers, refused to budge.

He said he was most sympathetic with any plan to help snow-bound people and cattle, but he had no authority to act. Also he said he had no funds allocated for this purpose.

Meanwhile, the Bureau of Land Management also lacked funds or authority. Without waiting for word from Washington, however, its officials proceeded to spend money anyway. Figuring that Washington would reimburse them later, they worked round the clock with no figuring in of overtime.

Taking a chance that Washington later would pay the bill they contracted for snow-removal equipment, etc., which were not authorized. Later, the money came through. But it was the so-called civilian bureaucrats who had the courage to act when the army hesitated.

Civil Rights for Housing

Wry-witted Sen. Ralph Flanders, Vermont Republican, has introduced a new term—"Horse Sheddling"—into the dignified process of lawmaking.

During a closed-door huddle over the Housing Bill, Flanders suggested that they call down to "Horse Sheddling." This he explained is a New England term for gathering in the horse shed when a controversy gets deadlocked, and doing some horse-trading on both sides.

The Democratic senators snapped up Flanders' suggestion and spent the rest of the afternoon "Horse Sheddling." By give and take, they patched together a strong housing bill acceptable to the majority of both Democrats and Republicans. The only hold-outs were the never-say-die friends of the real-estate lobby, Republican Sen. Harry Cain of Washington and John Bricker of Ohio.

At one point, Bricker warned he would try to amend the housing bill on the Senate floor to require a nonsegregation policy whenever public housing is built. Bricker didn't say so, but it was quite obvious he had in mind wrecking the housing program by arousing a northern battle over civil rights.

All of which caused one Democratic senator to whisper: "Cain and Bricker want to eliminate discrimination all right—but by giving nobody homes." (Copyright, 1949, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Right of Majority to Cut Off Discussion in Senate Has Broad Implications Which Have Existed Long Time

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 2—The debate over the right of a majority to cut off discussion in the United States Senate has implications that can affect the future of American history, as they have in the past.

Behind the right of a minority of Democrats to talk down any measures seeking to impose racial segregation upon the South is an armed truce which has existed in Congress virtually since the time of the War Between the States.

Again and again efforts have been made, as far back as the '90s, to impose upon the South a strict enforcement of the letter of the constitutional amendments which prohibit racial discrimination. Always the power of a small group of Senators to prevent a motion from being voted upon has been interposed to kill such measures as would employ Federal authority to secure civil rights within the States.

The South for a long time held its power in national party politics by means of the so-called two-thirds rule, whereby candidates at the Democratic national conventions could not get the nomination and if elected could not obtain renomination unless the veto of the bloc of one-third was removed.

The late President Roosevelt secured abolition of the two-thirds rule at nominating conventions. Another Democratic president is now behind the drive to abolish the veto by the Southern Democrats on civil-rights measures.

Unfortunately, the controversy over possible changes in the Senate rules has become entangled with the civil-rights question. Hence, a vote to abandon the present right of few Senators to filibuster a motion to decide is considered a vote for civil rights, and a vote to retain the rules is considered to be an action opposed to an equitable settlement of the civil-rights question.

The issue goes deeper, however, than civil rights and racial problems. It goes to the heart of minority rights on all questions. The issue of unlimited debate has kept the Senate from passing many bills, and the executive on matters of domestic as well as foreign policy.

In times of economic stress an intolerant majority can ride roughshod over the rights of the minority. In the Senate it has been possible for unlimited debate to be checked only by the processes of public opinion when the debate privilege was abused. While some filibusters have done real damage by delaying important measures till the next session, the real evils of the filibuster have been largely cured by the passage of the constitutional amendment which requires a new Congress to convene in January, virtually as a consecutive session, so that filibusters cannot be as effective as in the old days when Congress had to adjourn on March 4 and could not be brought into action again except by a special session.

There are safeguards against abuse of the debating privilege. The Republicans are split on the issue, as are the Democrats. In a few days Vice-President Barkley is expected to reverse a ruling by Senate President Pro Tem Vandenberg in the last Congress. That ruling originally held that motions to take up measures were subject to unlimited debate and that a cloture or gag rule could not be applied. When Mr. Barkley rules, as is expected, that a motion to take up a bill can be subjected to the debate limits of cloture procedure, then the Senate itself can by a majority vote uphold or reverse Mr. Barkley's ruling.

Will the Republicans vote to repudiate Mr. Vandenberg's historic ruling? If they do, then it is only a question of time when the present cloture rule will be changed to apply to all motions and then debate can be cut off on any motion or measure by a vote of two-thirds of the Senate.

The battle depends now on what the Republicans will do. They scarcely will get the credit for changing the rules, as President Truman and the Democratic leaders are forcing the issue. In the end, the Republicans probably will wind up by depriving themselves of the most important weapon they could use to preserve the inviolate of state socialism wherein all civil rights would in the long run probably have to be sharply curtailed anyway. By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I am writing this in a recumbent position, having been hospitalized by public announcement in the Hollywood variety, which is to those who paint their faces and go flouncing with ruffles on their shorts what the Daily Worker is to some worthy graduates of Harvard law and the cult of Justice Felix Frankfurter. This announcement offers to sell a home containing many antiques including one bedroom "totally lined with peach-colored mirrors from floor to ceiling." It is the modest cot which hitherto has sheltered the privacy—and who would have the rudeness to wonder what elfin merriment?—of the Melvyn Hesselbergs, otherwise called the Melvyn Douglasses.

Mr. Douglas you will surely remember as a member of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's gallant corps of calisthenists, whoopsical rhythmicists and spiritual stalwarts which took over an apartment building in Washington in the hour of our awful peril, evicting the residents, except one reactionary old lady who said to hell with them and would not get out, and dug themselves in to bolster the morale of us "labeled nonentities of the lower orders."

Mrs. Douglas, who goes under the name of Helen Gahagan, is a Brooklyn sprit of a year between the winter when they skated to New York on the ice and the Spanish-American War. She also threw herself into democracy's great crusade by going to lecture to Congress as rival of Mrs. Clara Boothe Luce, Republican. La Luce was giving those old bucks the profile and the languid eye and filling them with frivolous delusions when they should have been nodding

Now the politics of Mrs. Hesselberg, pronounced Gagan, were outwardly those of that incomparable idol of the good in heart whose memory I honor, though his name be unfit to speak. She is, in a weak phrase, a New Dealer. But, strangely, though the Hollywood intellectuals, so many of whom later refused to say whether they were members of the Communist Party, admired and, as it were, bet on her to knock Mrs. Luce loose from her baby stars, she should have been nodding

When did the United States first establish diplomatic relations with Japan? American diplomatic relations began in 1854.

Questions-Answers

Q—Who wrote the Negro spirituals?

A—The spirituals are sacred folk songs created or modified by the Negroes in America. Although many of them have been arranged and interpreted by known composers, their words and music are traditional and their individual authorship is not known.

Q—Is the peanut a nut or a vegetable?

A—The peanut is a legume and belongs to the same family of plants as peas and beans and is therefore a vegetable.

Q—Is there any part of the United States where electrical storms never occur?

A—No, although they are comparatively rare on the Pacific coast. On the average, thunderstorms are twice as frequent in Ohio as they are in northern New England.

Q—In American politics what is meant by "pork-barrel government?"

A—A federal appropriation, as for improving rivers and harbors or erecting public buildings, regarded as made more for patronage than to fill a real need.

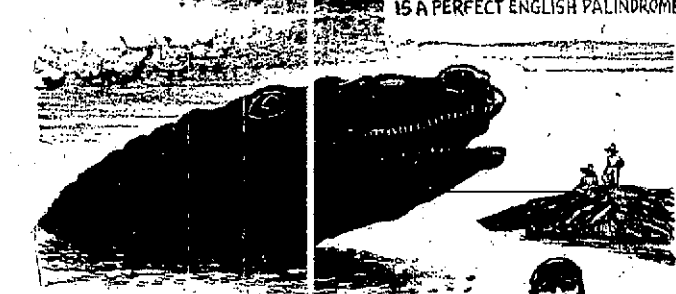

Q—When did the United States first establish diplomatic relations with Japan?

A—American diplomatic relations began in 1854.

Pulls Vienna Coup, Making Grand Slam

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Looking over the records, I was pleased to see that Ambrose Casner of New York city was the second-highest winner of master points in 1948. "Amby" won those points the hard way. He does not pick outstanding players as partners. He plays with all types of players.

Casner has had an interesting career. He still carries a card in the musician's union, and was one of the first orchestra men to appear on radio.

His wife is well known in the musical world as Gretchen Haller, an outstanding contralto.

He is rapid-fire on his decisions in the play of the hand. In today's hand, he said that he probably should have bid five no trump, asking for kings, before bidding seven; but he was counting five hearts, five clubs, two aces, and either a sixth heart or a king in his partner's hand.

West took a long time to make the opening lead, and finally played the six of hearts. Casner (South) felt confident now that West held at least one of the missing kings, and he knew that West would have to hold both of them if he was to make his contract. He decided to try for a Vienna coup. After winning the first heart trick, he cashed the ace of diamonds and then ran five club tricks and three heart tricks. The three cards remaining in each hand at this point are underlined.

The nine of hearts was led from dummy. Casner discarded the seven of diamonds. West held on to the king of diamonds and threw away the jack of spades. Casner now led the three of spades from dummy, went up with his ace, dropping the king, and the queen of spades won the thirteenth trick.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Kingston District

The February meeting of the Kingston District Committee was held at the home of Mrs. J. Haviland Barley, chairman. Miss Madeline Berg reported that the communion breakfast held at the Kirkland Hotel February 13, was the most successful to date. Twenty-four leaders and troop committee members attended. At the discussion held following the breakfast the leaders expressed their satisfaction with the religious activities at present on the calendar. Dates for the Holy Hour and May Day were set.

Mrs. Herman Roosa, chairman of St. John's troop committee, reported on the recent investiture held there. Girls from the Children's Home were invested and were accompanied by members of the board of directors of the home who acted as "Mothers" for the events.

Mrs. Charles Davis reported that she had been appointed head of a committee to coordinate the work of the troop committee chairmen in the city.

Mrs. Joseph Reis reported for the Leaders Club as follows: The Arts and Crafts exchange now has on hand weaving looms, tools for block printing, tools for leather craft, a shadow box, sewing pliers for making copper jewelry and samples of favors for parties. All leaders are urged to contact Mrs. David Conway if they plan to do a project so that the tools will be available. A proposal made by Mrs. John Valentine for a workshop in connection with the exchange was unanimously agreed upon. Just as soon as leaders have articles for display at the Ulster County Fair they are urged to get in touch with Mrs. George McDonough and let her know what craft they plan to demonstrate. Mrs. Casper Souers explained a questionnaire which was mailed out to all leaders in connection with training. It was also reported that Mrs. Max Chirlin will be available for help in getting new leaders started with an adequate program. After the next meeting Mrs. Donald Dinnle of Port Ewen gave an interesting talk on simple first aid, demonstrating also how to make a first aid kit from a tin can. The next meeting of the Leaders Club will be held at St. John's Parish House, March 14.

Mrs. Barley reported that Mrs. Vincent Connelly has joined the District Committee as membership nominating chairman. The resignation of Mrs. E. E. Palen, Jr., representative from Port Ewen, was accepted with regret.

Mrs. Julius Kirschner reported that the board of education has granted the Girl Scouts the use of the Myron Michael gym for the Birthday Party March 12. The program for the party was also discussed.

BAKED EGGS GOOD MEATLESS DISH

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

From today, Ash Wednesday, until Easter, many families will serve meatless meals frequently. Eggs, of course, are ideal alternatives to meat and will be used largely during Lent.

Mexican Baked Eggs

Four eggs, 1 tablespoon butter, 4 tablespoons finely grated cheese, 1 teaspoon chili powder.

Break eggs separately in individual baking dishes, or heat large baking dish slightly in oven, (so eggs will stay in place), then arrange eggs carefully in one dish. Put a tablespoon of grated cheese, a bit of butter, a sprinkling of chili powder and a dash of salt on each egg. Bake in a very moderate oven, (300 degrees F.) until eggs are set. Serve at once.

Corn Spoon Bread

(Serves 4-5)

Two cups corn meal, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup oil, 1/2 cup salt, 1/2 cup baking powder, 1/2 cup yeast.

Medina Puts End To Attack on Jury System at Trial

New York, March 2 (AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina has put an end to the defense attack on the jury system in the conspiracy trial of 11 top Communist leaders.

"Time's up. The case is closed," he ruled late yesterday.

Cutting off protests by defense lawyers, he told them that "if you had your way, we would never be finished with this challenge."

The defense lawyers had been informed last Friday that yesterday's session—the 27th court day in the pre-trial proceedings—would be the deadline for them to complete their case.

Judge Medina denied a defense motion to dismiss the indictment, and indicated he would reject the jury challenge by saying he "disputed" the actual trial will start next Monday.

The judge repeated yesterday his frequent comment that the Communists were failing to prove their contention that the jury-picking system is discriminatory and that because of this they cannot get a fair trial.

His formal decision on the jury attack is due Friday.

Judge Medina directed counsel for the defense and prosecution to give him by Friday lists of questions they want asked of prospective jurors. He said he would conduct the questioning himself, a common federal court practice.

Court was adjourned until Monday in the midst of defense questioning of George J. H. Folmer, former clerk of the U. S. District Court.

A new panel of prospective jurors was summoned yesterday for the trial of the Communist leaders on charges of conspiracy to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

Practically all of the pre-trial proceedings have been taken up with defense efforts to have the grand jury indictment killed and the panel of prospective trial jurors disqualified. They based their move on contentions that the jury-picking system discriminates against poor people, women, manual laborers, Negroes, Jews and members of other minority groups, and in favor of the rich.

The defense called as a witness yesterday Judge John C. Knox, senior judge of the federal southern district of New York, who put the current jury system into effect 10 years ago.

Judge Knox testified that he revamped the system to obtain "a better class of juror." But declared he has sought to have "every economic and social group in the community" represented on juries.

He defended the jury system, and said he never had ordered any one excluded on the ground of race, color, religion, sex, or political, economic or social reason.

Bathers Shock Citizen

An elderly citizen going home after midnight in Cape Town, tip-toed over to the lily pond near the South African National Gallery to investigate giggles and splashing. A nude young woman, her head crowned with water-lily leaves, rose to the surface, saw him and screamed. An equally nude young man hurried to her rescue. The elderly citizen fled. Now, constables armed with torches hide in the shrubbery to prevent midnight bathing in the lily pond.

Testimony Shows Pilots Unaware of Their Approach

New York, March 2 (AP)—The occupants of a Pan American Airways Constellation and a private monoplane which collided over Port Washington, N. Y., on January 30, resulting in the deaths of two men in the smaller plane, apparently did not realize they were converging until the moment of impact, according to witnesses yesterday at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing into the cause.

The pilot and co-pilot of the airliner, which was en route from New York to Shannon, Eire, told of a normal takeoff and flight until the collision.

Others among a score of witnesses who testified said they watched the two aircraft from the ground and that the planes apparently maintained steady flight until the light plane plunged into the transport. Later, the airliner landed at Mitchell Field, N. Y., with 23 uninjured passengers and its crew of 10.

Captain George F. Knuth, 31, of Huntington Station, N. Y., described the takeoff and routine departure from La Guardia Field. He said: "Suddenly a small, silver-colored airplane appeared on the right side slightly above cockpit level and very close in. A collision appeared inevitable and I pushed forward hard on the yoke (controls) as the only possible evasive action. The crash occurred almost simultaneously."

Asked by the hearing officer, Russell A. Potter, whether he had any "unusual difficulty in maintaining a lookout from the 'Connie,'" as the Constellations are known, Captain Knuth replied: "I recognize that visibility from the cockpit leaves something to be desired."

When Potter asked whether Constellations have "quite a few blind spots as far as visibility is concerned," Capt. Knuth agreed. The pilot said he did not know what could be done to improve visibility from the cockpit.

"Where could the Cessna (the smaller aircraft) have come from if not farther out in front and above, with good visibility?" Joseph O. Fluet, chief of C.A.B. Region One, asked.

"It would be very difficult to answer that question," Captain Knuth replied.

The pilot estimated that he saw the private plane "less than a second" before impact, when it already was "inside the wing area" of his plane.

Wade Testifies
First Officer Malcolm S. Wade,

34, of the Flushing Y.M.C.A., testified that, sitting to the right of the pilot, he was reaching for a radio control dial when "a sudden blast and shudder occurred—I saw nothing coming before."

Wade continued: "The plane lurched forward and by reflex action I grabbed the yoke, and then removed my hands. I asked Captain Knuth if he had control of the airplane and received a pleasant affirmative answer."

Wade said the aircraft slowed down and started descending at about 175 miles per hour, and that he glanced back over his left shoulder, observing "the upper right side of the fuselage was caved in with debris flying in the galley doorway and crew compartment."

The crash, he related, smashed the topside antenna so that his attempts to radio La Guardia field or Mitchell field to report the emergency were futile.

The collision also jammed the passageway between cockpit and passenger compartment and silenced the plane's interphone, preventing communication between fore and aft sections until the landing, the witness said.

An eye-witness, George M. Skurla, an aviation engineer, of 1530 Elk street, Hempstead, N. Y., described the "steady, normal flight" of the two aircraft converging at right angles as seen from a shipyard in Port Washington.

He and his companion of that day, Miss Marie C. Buignoli, of 139 Sheridan Boulevard, Mineola, N. Y., a secretary, told of the smaller plane flying northward and the airliner going east.

Skurla told of watching the two planes for about eight seconds before the crash, and said that "at no time did either airplane begin to alter its course or altitude."

"I move or less assumed that each had the other in view and that my impression of an impending collision was merely an illusion," he related.

Miss Buignoli recalled that "as we watched them, we joked as to a possible collision," adding "at the second they drew close, I turned my head away in jest, but upon hearing the anxiety in George's voice, turned and caught the split-second when it seemed there was only the Constellation; then there was a flying-up of silver particles."

Two other spectators who observed the planes on steady courses were Joseph J. Nardiello, Jr., a student, of 113 Bayview avenue, Port Washington, and Miss Mary P. Molahan, a secretary, of 162 Port Washington Boulevard, Port Washington.

A statement read into the record and attributed to Mrs. Emily McCarthy, 80 Roslyn avenue, Sea Cliff, N. Y., said in part "it looked as though neither plane saw one another."

The hearing resumes today.

Farmers Fight Baboons

Hand-to-hand fighting between men and baboons was reported in the Midlands area of South Africa recently, as the green vegetation thinned and the marauding animals attacked the farmers' flocks. Gert Vermaak and Pieter Knoetze, farmers near Jansenville, have tracked baboons to their lair in the hillsides, crept along a precipitous ledge into the mouth of a cave, attacked the animals and flung their bodies over the brink. Vermaak, 48, shot one but did not kill it. His dogs closed in and he dared not fire the final shot, so he "waded on." I found that by putting out my hand the baboon grabbed it," he said, "I was then able to pull him across my body and grasp the back of his neck. Once you get a baboon in this grip he is powerless."

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—The Long Island Railroad has been granted temporary permission by the Public Service Commission to increase commutation fares by approximately $3,280,000 annually.

It permits increases ranging up to 33 1/3 per cent more than those now in effect.

The new rates will become effective on short notice after the railroad files revised fare tariffs, the Commission said, and will remain in effect until Nov. 1 pending determination of final fares.

Neon Sign for

Rosendale Theatre

Rosendale, March 2—The facade of Rosendale's Main street has had something new added in the business section—the brightly-colored neon sign proclaiming the Rosendale Theatre, housed in the old fire hall, and for which Rosendale's progressive mayor, J. W. (Doc) Vaughn has been mainly responsible.

Upon entering the pleasantly redecorated lobby, the moviegoer is greeted at the box office by the smiling and cheerful Mrs. Anthony Cacchio, whose husband is the manager. The hall itself has been completely renovated into an attractive, inviting, model theatre, from the carpeting in the aisles to the soft, velvety folds of the stage curtains. In addition to the assistance of his charming wife, Mr. Cacchio also has working with him his two sons, Rocco and Anthony Jr. His projector operator is Frank Stettin. Mr. Cacchio has spent much time and effort in this, his first business venture, and is pleased with the manner in which the community has responded in the first two weeks of its existence. Arrangements now have been made with the Post Office for mailing the programs of advance weekly billings, which service will be available beginning next week. Anyone not receiving this circular after that time, and desiring to do so, may obtain mailings by leaving his name and address at the box office. Good luck and best wishes for long-continued success to the Cacchio family in their new enterprise.

Rosendale, March 2—Chief John R. Anderson of the Binnewater Fire Company announces that the new telephone system recently installed is now ready for use. There is a direct wire extension to George Craft's residence, where remote control has been set up for instantaneous ringing of the fire siren. Also a code system has been arranged covering the Fourth Binnewater, Maple Hill, Hickory Bush, and Williams Lake. The telephone number to call in case of fire is Rosendale 4521. This system also enables the Binnewater Fire Company to render more satisfactory mutual aid to other fire companies in Ulster county. Fire drills are held regularly every second Sunday in the month.

Difficult Time

Rosendale, March 2—Edward McCaffrey, Jr., who is employed by the Bell Laboratories in New York, spent a few days leave from duties with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCaffrey, Main street, Rosendale. The McCaffreys are newcomers to town, Mr. McCaffrey being connected with the Bruck Funeral Home in this village. Mrs. McCaffrey experienced a difficult time in her first few days after moving to Rosendale.

She arrived the day before the pre-New Year's floods, and was stranded alone in her new home for two days before the waters receded, and managed to get along only through the kind assistance of her neighbors and the efforts of the nearby grocer who saw to it that she received food and other items that she needed. Mrs. McCaffrey has become a member of the Rosendale Women's Club. Mr. and Mrs. McCaffrey are members of the Rosendale Grange No. 1501, and are actively participating in community activities.

Rosendale Grange Meeting Monday

Rosendale, March 2—Rosendale Grange 1502 met in regular session in the newly redecorated Grange Hall on Monday night with Worthy Master George Mollenhauer in the chair. The entire first floor interior has had a fresh coat of paint, all of the work being done by a voluntary committee consisting of Cornelius Houghtaling of Bloomington, Ferdinand Fiedler of Rosendale, William Housen of Bellingham, Adolf Storgenz of Bloomington, chairman. The committee did such an excellent job on the large main hall, donating their services, that at the last meeting the members voted to have the same group complete the work with proper remuneration for their efforts. Investigation is now being made to ascertain the necessary repairs required to put the outside of the building in order, after which it, too, will be painted.

Much interest was displayed in organizing ladies' and men's dart ball teams, with a view to participating in this activity with teams from other Granges throughout the county.

Worthy lecturer, Mrs. Fred Roeltgen presented a short patriotic program. Refreshments were served after the meeting, followed by two games of dart ball. Committee in charge of refreshments for the next meeting, March 14, includes the following: Mr. and Mrs. George Mollenhauer, Mrs. Helen Aldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Myers, Arthur Merrihew, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wirth, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Osmer, Mrs. Ruth Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sahler, Oliver Keator, Wilbert Rodegerdis and George Krom.

Square Dance

Rosendale Grange will hold a square dance on March 25 in the Grange Hall. Music will be furnished by Floyd Deitz and his Singing Sons of the Saddle. Committee in charge: Mrs. Ferdinand Fiedler, Mrs. Russell Tenure, Edward McCaffrey and George Krom.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Another item, which brought response from subscribers was the mention of the "Squadealer." One was recently loaned to me by Robert Matthews of Ponchockie, dated Saturday, August 10, 1907. It sold for 5 cents. It carried many advertisements of well known businessmen of that period. "Eagle Hotel, Accommodations for automobile parties—Kingston's Leading Hotel." "McClure's Opera Cafe of 290 Wall street." "Yellow Front Soda Store for the finest sodas and frappes in town! 5 and 7 cents." "Japanese Grill Room in rear, 37 N. Front street." "Penny Arcade, 600 Broadway, M. B. Myers, Real Estate Bought and Sold." Who remembers that penny arcade?

The following does not give the name of the little girl who was nearly run over at Broadway near Foxhall avenue, so if she's still in town perhaps she can remember the incident when cars were a rarity. "A big Peerless touring car, in which were seated H. H. Cannon, Bert Chambers and a Squadealer reporter making its way down Broadway. At the Foxhall avenue crossing, the little girl ran directly in front of the big machine. Chambers, the driver, realizing the peril of the child, brought the machine to a sudden stop. The car is a big four-cylinder, 30 horse power Peerless, and W. Norman Conner had recently taken the agency for it in Ulster county and vicinity. Mr. Cannon, recently connected with a Southern auto concern, is now employed by the Peerless Manufacturing Co. The Squadealer was printed and published every Saturday at 13 West Strand, by Stephen H. Abbey, president and treasurer, Charles Froelich, secretary. They used two phones, the Hudson River line 138, and Citizens Standard 4081. Subscription was $1 for 6 months or $1.75 per year. An old timer who was one of the Squadealer's newsboys said, "It sold like hot-cakes! Saturday all the kids would rush down to the Strand. If they didn't have money for the first bunch of papers, Abbey would let them have an armful anyway. After coming back for a second load, Abbey didn't bother to collect for the first batch. The scandal page went under the heading of 'Goatslets,' which were short, two and three line items on the comic side, but it was no laughing matter to those who were mentioned. The Senate House Museum has a number of copies which can be examined and read at will.

SHOKAN

Shokan, March 1.—Shokan members of the Olive Fire Department attending the school of instruction at Woodstock last Wednesday evening were Lester Lawrence, Emerich Lukacs and George McNamara. The topic of better relations between firemen and public and the importance of avoiding unnecessary damage to property in the course of fighting fires, were discussed at the meeting which will be followed by another one at the same place on March 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Carlson of New York motored up from the city in their new Kaiser sedan and spent Sunday with their relatives, Harold Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gebbels, in the village center.

Selbert Barley who resided in this section as a young man is now living a retired life and makes his home in Kingston. "Sib" has long held an enviable reputation as an expert sawyer and in this capacity was employed in various lumber mills in this and other counties. His old home here was the mountain farm now known as the Robert B. Peck summer place.

plans will be in charge of Homer Markie, Jr., west-end painter. Jacob and Homer were young fellows together in Glen Cove, L. I., but lost track of each other in later years, and the newcomer did not know that Homer was now a local resident of long standing until after he had moved to the Lyons place. So, again, "it's a small world, after all."

A birthday coming up on Thursday, March 3, is that of Murray Slavin, a resident of the mountain road for the past three years. Born in Brooklyn, son of Isaac and Sarah Slavin, he attended the city schools and Pace Institute. Before buying the Fred Weeks place and coming to Shokan he operated a fruit farm at German town and he is now an accountant with a Kingston knitting mill. Murray is married to the former Catherine Walker and his recreations include golf, gardening and swimming.

It Comes Here to Speak for Joe

In a month or so, suppose you want to call Joe Doakes on the phone. You hear a click, then a voice says, "Joe isn't home. This is his mechanical telephone-answerer speaking. I'll take any messages." The new gadget, shown in New York by George F. Ryan, president of the demonstrating firm, will automatically answer the phone and record up to 60 minutes of messages on an erasable wire tape. It will cost about $200.

Protestant Women Arrange Service For World Prayer

Women of the Protestant churches in the city are working with the planning committee for the annual World Day of Prayer service Friday in the First Dutch Reformed Church. The service is planned for the first Friday in the Lenten season and is held at a different Protestant church each year.

The worship is so arranged that representatives from many of the churches will participate in leading the devotions which will be from the outline used throughout the world by Protestant church women on this day. The service will begin at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool of the host church will preside. Women from the churches will form a choir to lead the congregation in singing hymns. Miss Marjorie Hinkley, soprano of the First Dutch Senior Choir, will sing a solo. Mrs. Raymond H. Rignall, church organist, will be at the console.

Representatives from the following churches and groups will take part in leading the program: Fair Street Reformed, Clinton Avenue Methodist, St. James Methodist, Rondout Presbyterian, Wurts Street Baptist, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Trinity Lutheran, St. John's Episcopal, St. Mark's A.M.E. Zion, First Presbyterian, First Baptist, St. Paul's Lutheran, W.C.T.U., Y.W.C.A., Ponckhockie Congregational, and Progressive Baptist.

Women of all the churches are urged to attend this prayer service. As outlined by the United Council of Church Women the round-the-world-service will find "some praying for bread, some for clothing, all will be praying for peace and a deeper communion with God."

Trusting Circle's 60th Anniversary To Be Observed

The program will start at 2 p. m. at the Shady Hall and will consist of a brief historical summary of the chapter; a wishing well, vocal selections; a Candle degree; and a dramatization of the first meeting held 60 years ago.

Dinner will be served at 6 p. m. At 7:30 p. m. special services will take place in the Shady church. All friends are invited to attend all or part of the services. However, those desiring to remain for the dinner are asked to notify Charlotte Reynolds not later than Saturday.

Former Resident Married

At Schuyler, Nebraska, announcement has been received of the marriage of Miss Geraldine Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Woods, Schuyler, Neb., formerly of this city, to Richard Raymond Wington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Wington of Schuyler, Neb. The marriage was performed at St. Augustine's Church in Schuyler February 14 by the Very Rev. C. J. Nacker.

Baskets of yellow and orange snapdragons and candelabra entwined with huckleberry decorated the altar and sanctuary.

The bride wore an ivory slipper gown fashioned with sweet-heart neckline, featuring seed-pearl trim and skirt trimmed with a two yard train. Her fingertip length veil of imported English illusion was caught to a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a sweetheart bouquet of vanda orchids bound by a frame of gold tulle.

Miss Jess Woods, aunt of the bride, as maid of honor, wore an emerald green slipper gown with gold tulle headpiece. Mrs. Dale K. Busch as the bride's other attendant wore a blue gown with gold tulle headpiece. Each carried a colonial bouquet of yellow jonquils and anemone with gold ribbon. Mel Busch and Dale K. Busch attended the bridegroom. Edward Suchy and Dale Keller were ushers.

A reception was held at the Legion Club for 300 guests. A buffet supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Woods following the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Wington left for a wedding trip. For traveling she chose a burgundy gabardine suit with white gloves, blouse and hat; black top coat, bag and slippers, and an orchid corsage.

The bride was born in Kingston and later moved to Hackett, N. J., where she was graduated from Holy Trinity High School in 1948. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. J. Croelen, Rosendale. Her husband is a native of Schuyler, Neb. He was graduated from the Schuyler High School in 1945, served two and a half years in the navy during the war. He is associated with his father at the Wington Motor Company. The couple plan to make their home in Schuyler, Neb.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hughes, 8 Green street, left Sunday for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Hughes.

Robert Craft's Chamber Art Society were praised by New York reviewers for its presentation of the new Stravinsky Mass, Saturday afternoon. The composer directed the concert of his music. Of Craft, Arthur V. Berger, New York Herald Tribune critic, said, "Mr. Craft, who arranged his first Stravinsky concert last season, deserves our deepest gratitude for his labors. The unusual notion of having W. H. Auden read some of his poems, which he did most elegantly, was a fine one, indeed, and had a most gratifying effect in bringing together the musical and literary audience."

Miss Nancy Halverson, 186 Manor avenue who is a junior at Wellesley College has been appointed a member of Mademoiselle's College Board. The appointment enables her to compete for a College Guest Editorship of Mademoiselle.

Turmoil in France Discussed By Twentieth Century Club

The story of inner turmoil in France today was reviewed at the meeting of Twentieth Century Club, Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Deegan, 214 Albany avenue. Mrs. S. Maxwell Taylor presented her paper on France following the short business meeting.

France has been remembered as the land of wines, clothing and romance, she said in introducing her remarks. However, people now remember the France who revealed and left the English stranded at Dunkirk without a helping shot; the France who waited and watched Czechoslovakia and Poland fight hopelessly to save their homelands and the France who surrendered to save Paris from destruction.

Mrs. Taylor described the present France as a land of inward strife almost without government and the French blame everyone for this—but France. She noted that the French cabinets are fickle and temperamental. The serious minded worry about the multiple party system, but are grateful that it has not become a one party system. A great leader who will save France is the dream of every patriotic Frenchman.

The French trouble is an economic one brought about by lack of production, Mrs. Taylor suggested. The endless labor strikes are responsible for this condition, she said. The French are expecting the dollars of the American tourists to remedy this economic stress. Mrs. Taylor noted in closing that America is grateful for the Friendship Train, but also would be grateful for peace.

The next meeting of Twentieth Century Club, March 14, will be with Mrs. W. S. Eltinge, 105 St. James street.

Arlene's Introduce Plasticized Nylons

NEW PROCESS CUTS SNAGGING OF STOCKINGS

March 2, 1949—Arlene's, 49 N. Front street, introduced today, to the women of Kingston and Ulster county, Bijou Plasticized Nylons—a new miracle in hosiery fashion. Mr. Schwartz reports the oft-repeated lament—"I've snagged my stocking"—may soon disappear from the realm of feminine comment, for a new process, "plasticizing," has been discovered to give greater snag resistance to the sheers of nylon hosiery.

This new process guards the stockings with a liquid plastic film which can't be seen, can't be felt, but is there to make the hosiery safer from snags and runs.

Plasticized stockings, tested by a major testing firm, bettered the company's standard requirements by 67.5 per cent. Looking at this new development strictly from the basis of dollars and cents means extra funds in the clothing budget. Snagging is the cause of most hosiery casualties, and with plasticizing these casualties will be cut down. It follows that the wondrous field of plastics has again come to the fore with an aid for the budget-wise woman for she'll have to buy fewer stockings.

These stockings have the added advantages of being proportioned to size, coming in two weights and being presented in spring's rich tones.

Holstein's Deuce in Last 12 Seconds Shades Beacon High, 40-39

Dutchess Cagers Almost Achieve Major Upset in Maroon Finale

Beacon Leads 39-38 At 18-Second Mark

God bless "Champ" Holstein's southpaw hook shot from the left hand corner of the court! This beautiful species of basketball precision shooting accounted for the deciding points in the 40-39 thriller against Port Jervis on February 15.

Last night, in the last 12 seconds of a maddening contest with Beacon High at the municipal auditorium, it repeated for another 40-39 triumph as Kingston High closed out the regular 1948-49 campaign with 17 wins in 18 starts.

Beacon Surprises

If the under-par crowd had come to watch Kingston score a routine victory in their final outing before the home crowd, they got a terrible shock.

It wasn't that kind of a ball game. At least, Beacon wouldn't play according to the script. They double-teamed Ronnie Scheffel and restricted him to 11 points, while Holstein couldn't hit for his hat until he delivered the payoff shot.

Those Hostile Minutes

Getting back to those furious last three minutes it went something like this: At the 3:15 mark, Holstein's followup sent Kingston ahead 36-35 but Garo converted one of two foul chances to create a 36-36 tie, the sixth deadlock in the contest.

With 2:30 remaining, Kennelly converted a foul for 37-36 for Beacon. A minute of wild scrambling ensued before Mike Rienzo intercepted a pass, soled down the court and hit with a blinding jump shot to regain the lead, 38-37, for the Klansmen.

Kingston went into a "freeze" at the 1:15 mark, but with 35 seconds remaining, Jones stole the ball and whipped a pass to Tom Hopper who scored from under at the 18-second mark. Kingston came downcourt, Holstein maneuvered into his favorite spot in the left hand corner, cut loose and the ball swished through the cords "like it had eyes" as they say in the more literate basketball circles.

The usual brawling ensued in the last 10 seconds, but Beacon was unable to get off a shot and when the final buzzer sounded, Mike Rienzo, as usual, had his claws firmly wrapped around the cakskin.

Two Beacon Aces This see-saw, grueling contest in which Kingston was never really able to untrack itself was no spectacle for the weak-hearted. A 5-2 lead in the early minutes frayed a routine win for the Klansmen but such hopes quickly faded. Scheffel, who had been Holstein couldn't hit. Add the two and you get nothing but disaster.

Beacon unveiled two of the best players seen at the auditorium this season in Tom Hopper, forward, and center Floyd Jones. Hopper was the individual scoring star with 16 points on a variety of beautiful shots, while Jones was plain murder to the backboards. He accounted for 15 points.

Scheffel Scores 11

Ronnie Scheffel emerged with 11 points to pace Kingston. Koebe Chambers tossed in five points, Holstein netted including the final two and Rienzo eight.

who had won six straight up to last night, including a triumph over Poughkeepsie High, spurred near the end of the first period to lead 8-6. They were in front 20-16 at halftime and stayed in front until the four-minute mark of the final session. Everytime Kingston threatened to start galloping, they called time out and it worked.

Jayvees Win

The Jayvees set the pattern for furious finishes by staving off a desperate Beacon rally to tie out a 33-32 victory in the closing seconds of the preliminary game.

Ahead 21-16 at the half, the Maroon yearlings stayed a point or two ahead all the way. Beacon had possession of the ball almost the whole last minute and missed several baskets that would have turned the tide.

George Berryann, who normally doesn't score much, led the Jayvees with 10 points, while F. Carpouzis had 8. Mike Provenzano was off form and settled for six points. G. Fitzpatrick and F. Thorn each had 11 for Beacon.

23 Stars Missing From First Drill

(By The Associated Press)

Major league baseball teams entered the second day of their 1949 spring training sessions today with at least 23 players still dickering for more money.

The 16 teams began preparing for the 1949 grind yesterday with light workouts, pepper games and bull sessions.

Cleveland's world champion Indians, operating out of Tucson, Ariz., permitted four of their dissatisfied athletes, pitchers Gene Bearden, Will Hefey and infielders Joe Gordon and Roberto Avila to work out. Hurrier Bob Lemon, also a holdout, was not in camp.

The National League champion Boston Braves, training at Bradenton, Fla., listed five holdouts, pitchers Warren Spahn, Clyde Shoun, catcher Phil Masi, infielder Ed Stanky and outfielder Jeff Heath.

Other holdouts include, first baseman Les Fleming, Pittsburgh; outfielder Stan Spence, Boston; Red Sox; pitcher Vic Raschi and infielder Bobby Brown, New York Yankees; outfielder Johnny Wyrostek and pitcher Harry Gumbert, Cincinnati; outfielder Coaker Tripfott, Philadelphia Athletics; second baseman Jerry Priddy and outfielder Pete Layden, St. Louis Browns; pitcher Scholby Rowe, catcher Andy Seminick and infielder Buddy Blattner, Philadelphia Phillies; Don Kolloway, Chicago White Sox.

Fourteen players came to terms yesterday. Pittsburgh signed infielder Jack Tobin, pitcher Vic Lombardi and outfielder-first baseman Walt Judnich. The Red Sox satisfied outfielder Dom Dimaggio. Lefty Tommy Byrne agreed to Yankee terms. The Athletics signed pitchers Phil Marchildon, Bobby Schantz and outfielder Taft Wright. The Browns pleased infielder Andy Anderson and pitcher Cliff Fannin. Pitcher Bob Roberts signed with the Phils, hurler Howie Pollot with the Cards, infielder Jimmy Bloodworth with the Reds and outfielder Peanuts Lowrey with the Cubs.

Weather Cool Some of the chilliest weather in two months greeted the ten teams making Florida their headquarters.

The west coast of the Gator state, where six teams are training, experienced the first cold spell since New Year's Day with temperatures ranging from 47-51 degrees.

In contrast, warm weather and sunny skies welcomed the Indians and the New York Giants, out west. The Giants, at Phoenix, went through a three-hour workout with Manager Leo Durocher batting in the infield and directing a hitting drill.

On the Pacific coast the Chicago White Sox, at Pasadena, Calif., went through their first workout under their new leader, Jack Onslow. Jelly Cholly Grimm gave his Chicago Cubs' pitchers a hard time, chasing fungoes as well as pitching batting practice.

The St. Louis Browns, training at Burbank, Calif., plan to start full scale activities today. The Pirates, at San Bernardino, Calif., expect to hold one drill a day until March 12 when they face the Cubs in their first Grapefruit League game.

Ortiz Trounces Dado In Bantam Challenge

One more retirement and Joe Louis will be in a class with Adelin Patti. You youngsters wouldn't know about her, but ask pop and mom for the info. The Notre Dame-N.Y.U. basketball thriller Monday night at Madison Square Garden was the clincher! You can have the Oklahoma A.&M., Siena type, defensive basketball. We'll take it strictly modern from a spectator standpoint. Kevin O'Shea is still the "pro" with the Fighting Irish, although it was Barnhorns who broke the Violets' back. N.Y.U.'s Abe Decker, a sophomore should be one of the great pivot men in the game next season.

Aside to the "Down With Joe DiMaggio Club" at Tommie's Tavern: Am withholding comment on Ted Williams' alleged $100,000 salary for 1949 until I hear from the Boston fire chief whether Ted is going to play major league ball or join the fire company in Malden, Mass.

Rose Hart, the pretty young lady who is launching a bowling career, at the Bowlodrome, is a cinch to join the club at Tommie's. Incidentally, she is sporting a beautiful sparkler.

Flo'sam and Jetsam:

It's hard to fault Joe Louis' suggestion that Joe Walcott and Ezzard Charles battle for the heavyweight throne he has just relinquished. But the Brown Bomber getting tangled in the promotion business is another thing. So is his apparent rupture with Uncle Mike Jacobs, the man who promoted him to the world's championship. Joe made several bucks for Uncle Mike and the veteran promoter made just as many for the Bomber.

Louis was the champion with his gloves, Jacobs with his promotional acumen and genius. Commenting on Louis' proposed promotional venture, Jacobs said: "It looks to me like he's picked a lot of dead ones."

"I told him (Louis) I didn't want any part of it. I told him I didn't think he was doing the right thing." The day may come when the Bomber will wish he had listened.

The grapevine informs us that Jack's Restaurant has several secret weapons to unload when the occasion demands. (Ed Note: Hey, Jake, they could have used them Monday night). Joe Ausanio is rapidly developing as the big gun in the Booster loop, taking the play away from Kukum Tavern's Masked Marvel. This is the time of the season when Eddie Norton is due to break loose with one of his big triplexes.

C. O. Fromer, of 188 Albany avenue, Kingston's outstanding horseman, who likes to help train his harness horses, may be planning to do some actual driving in competition this year, according to J. C. "Shadow" Harrison, ex-Middletown scribe who is beating the drums for the trotting industry.

Harrison writes that Fromer has entered his three-year-old trotter, Emerson Hanover, in the amateur races at Saratoga. . . . These are the events limited to non-professional reinsmen. Fromer also has named his well-known gelding, Chuck Henley in the Spa early-closers.

Two jockeys were talking about reincarnation. One said he'd like to come back in the next life, as a race horse, preferably a Citation.

"But you won't," said the other. "Only women get to be race horses."

"Why?" asked the first.

"Because they make the best bags," replied the second.

Cancer Society Opens Local Office

The Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society opened an information center and office at 240 Fair street Tuesday. The office, which will during the 1949 drive serve as campaign headquarters, will be maintained as a permanent office for the Ulster County Branch for the distribution of literature and information of cancer.

Mrs. Harry P. Van Wageningen, executive director of the branch, said the use of the office, which is situated in the basement floor of the building used by the county for its welfare department, was made possible through the county board of supervisors. The room has been thoroughly cleaned and painted by the county.

With the establishment of this office, Mrs. Van Wageningen said, the public of Ulster county will have a place at which may be obtained information on the subject of cancer. "We hope as many as possible will stop in to see the new office," she said. If this is impossible, inquiries may be made by postal card, addressed to 240 Fair street or by telephoning 2737, she said.

A display of latest literature is expected to be put in within a day or two.

The Ulster County Branch, which is a part of the New York State Division of the American Cancer Society, expects to move its office to the new tumor clinic building when that building is completed.

Mrs. Van Wageningen also disclosed that Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has accepted an appointment as honorary city chairman of the 1949 campaign. The goal for Ulster county is $12,000 and the goal for the state is $867,000.

YOUNG GIRLS GET UP!

The following question presents a new thought: "Shouldn't half grown girls be taught to stand in a bus as long as an older woman has no seat? Young girls are better able to stand than many an older man who gives up his seat to a woman passenger."

It would be courteous, certainly. In fact, it would even be understandable should a young girl get up to offer her seat to a very old gentleman. And an excellent lesson in good manners to any young man who might be present.

The Bride and Groom KISS
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it not good form for the bride and groom to kiss after the ceremony, in front of the congregation? I believe you mention that they kiss only at a wedding at home. Why is this?

Answer: It is entirely proper that they kiss at the altar. In fact, they kiss almost always do. At a house wedding, or wherever they are at once to be surrounded by other people, it is considered by the superstitious to be very bad luck if the groom is not the first to kiss the bride.

Can't Omit "Me"
Dear Mrs. Post: My maiden name was Mary Maxwell McDougall. For my formal writing paper should I use the initials M. M. McD or should the "Me" be eliminated? I am told the "Me" would look unbalanced and it should be just "M."

Answer: It would be impossible to leave off the "Me," (or any other such prefix) as to leave off the first letter of your name.

Announcing Second Baby

Dear Mrs. Post: Last week my sister had her second baby and sent out birth announcements immediately. Mother said it was not correct to send them after the first baby. Others say "Why not?" Please settle the question.

Answer: It is quite right to send them to all people who could be considered interested friends. Such cards are merely news, and not requests for presents.

No Server
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to use a pie server to cut a gelatin mold?

Answer: There is no rule against using any implement that you find convenient.

Arranging the tea tray as well as how to serve at tea are included in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Afternoon Tea," 25¢. Will Probe Warfare

New York, March 2 (AP)—A special investigating unit set up by District Attorney Miles F. McDonald holds its first meeting today to probe street warfare between gangs of teen-aged boys in Brooklyn. Announcement of the unit was made by the Kings county prosecutor yesterday as a funeral was being held for a 14-year-old boy who was killed Sunday night by the accidental discharge of a pistol. The death led to seizure of an arsenal of various weapons in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn. Several arrests were made.

Newsboy Killed

Port Jervis, March 2—According to the police, Edward Moran, 34, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Moran, was killed Monday while playing in a garage with other newsboys waiting for papers to start their routes. Their investigation revealed that a truck tire and rim weighing between 300 and 400 pounds toppled over on the youngster.

suit of Mrs. Beck's "jealousy" of the New York woman, according to the prosecutor. First, however, they had obtained $3,000 from her.

Mc Mahon said the husky Mrs. Beck told of striking Mrs. Fay on the head with a pipe in a fit of jealousy and that Fernandez then strangled the woman.

Together they were said to have buried the body.

It was Fernandez's vanity that ultimately proved the pair's undoing, police said.

He bought a new toupee and Mrs. Downing became suspicious, Mc Mahon said he was told.

The widow, whose husband was killed a year ago when a train hit his truck, had been their hostess for several weeks. There was a plan for all to move to California, meanwhile selling the Downing property.

Mc Mahon said Fernandez and Mrs. Beck gave a formal statement telling how Mrs. Downing and her child were killed.

The mother was drugged with sleeping pills, then shot to death by Fernandez and buried in a shallow grave in the basement. The child was drowned.

"I understood the girl," Mc Mahon quoted Mrs. Beck, "and, holding her by the feet, I put her head in the tub of water we had bailed out of the mother's grave."

The mother was slain last Saturday and the daughter on Monday.

Alarm of neighbors over Mrs. Downing's disappearance led to a police investigation and the subsequent arrests.

Fernandez and Mrs. Beck themselves met through a correspondence club. She was then living in Pensacola, Fla.

They met in New York in 1947 and laid their plans to tour the nation and bill women contacted through "lonely hearts" clubs, Mc Mahon said they told him.

Albany Woman's Story
New York, March 2 (AP)—Fragments of a horror tale of a lonely widow, a matrimonial plot and a "jealous" slaying emerged today after police dug up a woman's body in the cellar of a Queens home.

Although official identification was withheld pending an autopsy today, the partially decomposed body was believed that of one of three persons reported slain in a cross-country "lonely hearts" swindle.

Information obtained from a 34-year-old Hawaiian-born man and his stout, 29-year-old girl friend after their arrest in Byron Center, Mich., led to the discovery of the body here last night.

The pair was said by authorities to have confessed the killing and cellar burial of a Byron Center widow and her 20-month-old daughter early this week, and the slaying of a Mrs. Janet Fay, of Albany, N. Y., here in January.

Mrs. Fay was a widow over 60 years old. Her exact age was not immediately known.

The alleged slayers, Raymond Martinez Fernandez and Martha Beck, a thrice-married divorcee, were quoted as saying that Mrs. Beck became "jealous" and slugged Mrs. Fay with an iron pipe.

The two reportedly told Byron Center police they buried Mrs. Fay in a cellar of a house in South Ozone Parks, Queens, near New York International airport.

Acting on this information, police here found the body bent double under four feet of earth between two concrete walls in a house at 133-15 149th street, Ozone Park.

Byron Center police said the slayers Fernandez admitted that he, working with the 200-pound Mrs. Beck who posed as his sister, lured women, contacted through "lonely hearts" columns, of thousands of dollars.

State Sources Say

Immediate and vigorous opposition from Democrats, teacher and parent groups and education organizations.

In addition, it reportedly was not acceptable to the rebel Westchester bloc.

Heavy opposition developed also to Mahoney's proposal to cut $8,800,000 from the $10,000,000 recommended by Dewey to launch the State University System and to his demand to eliminate the proposed $2,000,000 appropriation for community colleges.

Dewey himself remained silent on the budget cut demands set forth by Mahoney in a radio address Monday night.

However, an administration spokesman lashed back yesterday. Chairman D. Mallory Stephens of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee said the insurgents' demands would "wreck all state construction" and would strike a "fatal blow" at the state program for common schools and higher education.

The Public Education Association of New York city issued a statement declaring itself "squarely" opposed to the tax-smashing tactics of Senator Mahoney and his colleagues "on the side of Governor Dewey in the controversy over the state budget."

"The whole educational future of the children of New York state is at issue," the association said.

Proposal Is Rejected

Paris, March 2 (AP)—The Foreign Affairs Committee of the French National Assembly rejected today a proposal to invite President Truman and Prime Minister Stalin to confer in Paris.

A substitute measure was adopted. It would invite "all interested countries" to send representatives here for "a major effort for peace." The measure now goes to the National Assembly for approval.

Women's Club to Meet

The Junior Married Women's Club of the Y.W.C.A. will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Y.W.C.A. building.

to marry lonely women as part of the racket, police said, then gained control of their money or possessions.

Got $3,000 from Woman

The two were quoted as saying they got $3,000 from Mrs. Fay, of Albany, N. Y., before taking her to a rented apartment at Valley Stream, N. Y., where she allegedly was killed. Afterward, the account said, they hauled her body in a trunk to the Ozone Park residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pitman and their two children, the present occupants of the Ozone Park house since Feb. 1, said after the body was found last night that they planned to move immediately.

A real estate agent, James H. Anderson, of Jamaica, said he rented the house to a "Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martin" about Jan. 11, and that they moved out two days later without giving any reason.

His descriptions of the "Martins" police said, fitted those of the couple arrested in Michigan. In Amsterdam, N. Y., Dr. Alton Spencer, husband of Mrs. Fay's stepdaughter, said Mrs. Fay, accompanied by a man and a woman, had visited in the Spencer home Jan. 2.

Dr. Spencer said the man's name was given as "Martin," and that the woman was identified as Mrs. Fay's sister, Mrs. Fay, he added, said the "Martin" were to be married shortly.

Dr. Spencer said Mrs. Fay's husband died last year.

Notified Police
Early in January, Mrs. Spencer said, she visited her stepmother's Albany apartment and found she had left after selling a house she owned for $6,000 and withdrawing her funds from an Albany bank. Mrs. Spencer notified police her stepmother was missing.

On January 11, Mrs. Spencer said, she got a typed letter from New York city, purportedly signed by her stepmother, saying Mrs. Fay was "very happy" and having a grand time" and planned to go to Florida soon.

Mrs. Francis Gordon, of Albany, who said Mrs. Fay once had roomed at her home, recalled that Mrs. Fay told her she had become acquainted with someone through a "lonely hearts" column.

In Valley Stream, where Mrs. Fay reportedly was slain, Mrs. Fay's brother, William Arnsberger said they rented an apartment in their home to a "Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin" on December 17.

They said that early in January they saw the "Martins" move a large steamer trunk out of the place, but that they never saw a third person in the apartment.

The Washington Heights Branch of the Corn Exchange Bank confirmed that Fernandez had been a depositor there. His special checking account showed a balance of $5.

Fernandez was recalled by Charles Plater, superintendent of an apartment house at 565 West 133th street, listed by the bank as his New York address.

Plater said he remembered Fernandez becoming friendly with a Mrs. Jane Thompson, a former landlady who lived with her aged mother. Mrs. Wilson, in September, 1947, he moved into the Thompson apartment as a roomer, Plater said.

Shortly thereafter Fernandez mentioned that he and Mrs. Thompson were going to Spain on a trip. Plater said, recounting the following:

Only Fernandez returned from the trip to Spain. He told Mrs. Wilson that Mrs. Thompson was killed in a rain accident and was buried abroad. Fernandez sent Mrs. Wilson south to a son, as allegedly directed by Mrs. Thompson. Later he was joined by Mrs. Beck. The pair lived in the apartment until last fall when they moved after selling the apartment and only partly paid for furnishings to a veteran for $1,500.

More Cow Trouble; This One Climbs

Lawton, Okla., March 2 (AP)—The cow Iodine will never get caught in a silo.

She climbs.

Last week the cow Grady threw North America into a tizzy by throwing herself into a silo. She stayed trapped for five days until elbow and axle grease got her out.

Now comes word from farmer Glen Fuqua that his Iodine has taken to climbing haystacks at his 360-acre farm near here.

"We came home the other night to see her sticking her head out of the second story window of the barn, looking down at her calf," he said.

"We had a deuce of a time getting her down. Those stairs are 45 degrees and we had to poke her with an electric shocker with one hand and hold her back with the other."

But Tuesday morning the second-story cow was back in the haystack again, looking over the barnyard like Mussolini on the balcony. Back into action went the electric prod.

"We've tried quit," said Fuqua. "It's a lot of work."

Many Children Ill
Middletown, March 2—According to Dr. Nicholas P. Cosco, city health officer, an influenza-like ailment is prevalent especially among school children, who are overcome by high fever, undue weakness, listlessness, nausea with or without vomiting, body aches, croupy coughs and occasional sore throat. Acute stages of the disease, he said, seems to last one to three days. Since it spreads from person to person, he recommended unnecessary contact, but advised against closing of schools.

To Open Thursday

The Cyprus Inn, Albany avenue extension, will open formally on Thursday under the management of Mr. and Mrs. John Themistocles.

'Mr. Song of 1949' Contestants

First 'Mr. Song' Contest Friday

"Mr. Song of 1949" will be on the way toward selection Friday night when the first of the series of eliminations will be held at the Broadway Theatre.

The first four contestants in the $1,375 contest will go on the stage beginning at 7 o'clock and preceding the professional bill. Besides winning the nice parcel of prizes, "Mr. Song" also will be given opportunities which include an engagement at regular professional rates on the Broadway vaudeville show, and audition with one of the leading "name" bands of the nation, and for an established television show.

Winners will be selected each week solely on the basis of the applause registered by the audience. Each contest will be broadcast from the stage.

The contest will run for 12 weeks and cash prizes will be awarded weekly. Manager Cae announces that applications now are being accepted and will be accepted for the duration of the contest at either the Broadway or Kingston Theatres. All applicants will be auditioned and assigned to the weekly contest in order that entries are received.

Any man over 18 who thinks he can sing is welcome to try.

The four who will inaugurate the contests on Friday evening are Joe Bernard of 30 Boulevard Knolls, Poughkeepsie, who will sing, "Old Black Magic"; Frank White, 288 Clinton avenue, Kingston, who will sing "Some of These Days"; Alfonso McLendon, 67 Chapel street, Kingston, who will sing "So Dear to My Heart"; Frank Kouhout, 5 DeWitt street, Kingston, who will sing "80 Instead of 18", a comedy song.

Elks to Welcome National Leader Thursday Night

Kingston Lodge, 550, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, has an elaborate program arranged for Thursday night to welcome Grand Exalted Ruler George I. Hall, who will speak on Americanism and Democracy.

Exalted Ruler William A. Krum anticipates a large attendance of local Elks, and members of the order from surrounding communities, in the club on Fair street, to take part in the welcome.

The meeting of the lodge will start at 8:30 p. m., and following the session a buffet supper is to be served. All Elks are urged to attend.

Attorney Herman E. Gottfried, chairman of the reception committee, attached great significance to the occasion, noting that the visit is to be the first of any grand exalted ruler to Kingston Lodge.

Others on the committee are District Attorney Louis Bruhn, Assistant District Attorney Vincent G. Connelly, Attorney Thomas Plunkett, Dr. Joseph Rosenberg, past district deputy, and Exalted Ruler Krum.

Man Taken to Jail

A Giant in the Joint

Clerks, bellhops and lobby sitters at Chicago's Bismarck Hotel stared in stunned silence when Max Palmer came in for a room. The 21-year-old giant from Lyon, Miss., who stands 7 feet 8 inches and weighs 340, had to sign the register like this. Room clerk Barbara Ansel, right, looks on in awe.

Blind Stamp Drive Being Conducted By Kingston Lions

The fifth annual Blind Stamp drive sponsored by the Kingston Lions Club is under way and will continue through the month of March, ending on the 31st.

Announcement to this effect was made today by Roger Baer, chairman of the Blind and Sight conservation committee of the Lions, who said that proceeds would be used for the same worthy purposes as in past years.

Serving on the committee with Chairman Baer are Warren Smith, Elbert Ackerman, Richard Kalish, John Short, John DeGasperis, Ben Sikon.

Money raised is used for eye examinations and the purchase of glasses for children and adults. Among articles requested of the Lions are typewriters, braille bibles, braille songbooks, braille cookbooks, white canes, record players, talking books, radios and other items.

Each year the committee arranges a party for the blind people of the city and Ulster county.

It was also reported that last year funds had been set aside to furnish a sight conservation room in one of the city schools. This report was sent to the board of education. A letter from the board stated that due to the shortage of rooms for a great number of school students, it would be impossible to reserve a room for this purpose. It is the hope of the committee that a room will be set aside in the new school building.

A sight conservation room consists of special natural lighting conditions, supplemented by proper fluorescent lighting. Also included are a dark green blackboard, using special colored chalk, proper color flat paint on walls and ceiling, desks designed to be turned at any angle for proper lighting, no glare varnish, and special text books for each individual. The work shall be supervised by a special trained teacher.

The Blind Stamp is regular size to be placed on the back or left corner on the face of an envelope. The Lions ask people of Ulster to help in the Blind Stamp drive, so they may carry on their work.
